Benefits of Using an Employee Referral Platform: Fast and easy referral tracking along with cost effective and transparent hiring process make ER Platforms obvious choice for companies of all sizes

Major Benefit of ER Platforms	Description
Faster Employee Referrals	When a tool is in place, employees can easily see open jobs, discover a good fit from their connections, upload a resume. Timely awareness and less participation time improves their participation.
Easy Tracking of Employee Referrals	Be it for the recruiter or the employee, they can easily track the status of the candidate from the tool. An employee can see where the candidate stands, and the recruiter can analyze the profiles they receive and match them easily to the right jobs.
Cost Efficient	When you consider the costs of hiring through an employee recruitment agency, referral programs are clear winners by having an efficient and automated system to manage employee referral programs.
Archive Good Talent for Later	Even if the referred candidate is not a right fit now, employee referral tools store the candidate information safely and a recruiter can easily access it and map to a job when required.
Brings Transparency to the ER Program	A tool or software brings transparency to the process. No more putting in an extra word or giving partial benefits. Whichever candidate fits, he or she gets the job and the employee gets the reward.
